

Re: Malahat Film Studios

November 20, 2020

To Whom it May Concern,

RIGGIT is the exclusive rigging supplier for the Vancouver Convention Centre, Hyatt Regency, and Langley Event Centre. We have been the exclusive production labour supplier for Rogers Arena since 2010.

RIGGIT has considered opening an office in the Victoria area as accessing the district from the mainland is cost prohibitive for successful bids with clients. The project proposed by Malahat Film Studios offers the anchor needed to launch an office into the Victoria and Vancouver Island districts.

When we were contacted about this project we were very excited by the opportunity to be a part of this innovative approach to dealing with a larger scale studio. The challenges faced regarding building in a largely untapped area for film production are being met with creativity, innovation and inclusion RIGGIT wants to be part of that from the ground floor.

RIGGIT Services Inc's mission is to be the leading full-service provider of high-quality production and technical equipment, skilled personnel and specialized services to support our clients and deliver superior value through safe, collaborative, creative solutions. Established in 2000 by Rick Smith in Vancouver BC, RIGGIT set the stage for creating spectacular events both live and in film with a focus on our values: safety, service, teamwork, integrity and 'doing it right'. We design, build and install innovative systems that suspend objects for concerts, exhibitions, live events and film productions.

We successfully create small backyard weddings with as much expertise and enthusiasm as when we are responsible for all rigging and rigging personnel for the 2010 Winter Olympics and Paralympics opening and closing ceremonies.

We look forward to participating in the creation of this project, the ongoing success and the building of the technical human resources base through training and standards development.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Matthew Lees", written over a white background.

Matthew Lees
General Manager

Full-service * Rigging * Lighting * Labour * Solutions